

GRANT'S COW TRICK.

Note the tempered fake glass of milk, flatten this out and slide it between double walls of the green plaque with top part of glass to outside edge.... Then have a glass of milk about three fourths full (Diluted to match white painted milk on fake) on a table and lean green plaque against same and in front of that the cow plaque, have something else beside the glass such as passe bottle cover or phanto tube or box, so apparently the plaques are leaning against that.

Working:- Pick up plaques taking glass milk along behind them, slide off cow mat and show and then slide that to rear and then pull off green mat and show and this leaves the glass of milk behind the cow mat, lower this cow mat upright onto thr green mat that is tipped out flat and then lift off cow mat to reveal the glass of milk sitting on green mat.

Say you will do it again.. This time show both sides of each mat freely and finish up with cow mat on top or to front of green mat and as you pull cow mat up and away from green mat you pull the fake glass out of green mat along behind the cow, as you do your fingers spread at rear to keep it from snapping into glass shape to quick to make a noise, as you see it will take the shape of a glass of milk soon as it is released from mat, again place cow mat upright on grass mat and pull away to reveal a second apparent glass of milk.

Patter Idea- "Here I have a funny little cow and a patch of grass, this cow instead of giving milk in a can, gives it in a glass"

Note glass is tempered so it will take shape of glass, do not leave or prepare it too far in advance, as leaving it out flat too long it will lose it's temper.. In case it does lose it&s temper, roll it into a small roll and tie same with string and dip it in warm water (About as hot as your hand can normally stand) and leave it there for two mintues, take it out and let stand for 2 minutes, then remove string and open out and let it snap back to see if tempered correctly.

Here is a good follow-up with the fake glass after it is produced.. have a 18" swu re of cloth, double with form in middle so when held by form appears as if you are holding a glass underneath... So you take fake glass and cover with cloth, as you do, slide the fake glass over hand and up arm as it will spread to any width, then snap around arm up under coat sleeve and stay there, but you apparently still have glass under hanky thanx to shape, then flip cloth in air to show glass is gone.
