We supply a small sphere that is fastened to the end of a fine black spring wire of the proper length. Also included is a black silk.

TO PREPARE:

~~Push the point end of the wire thru the center of the black silk. Wrap the sphere in the center of the silk. Have this on your table, and you are all set.~~

TO PERFORM:

Turn to pick up the ball and silk, and let the point end of the wire slide into the top of your trousers under the front of your belt. You will find that it will stick into the cloth at the top of the trousers.

Open out your hand to reveal the ball. Your hand lowers and the ball floats up out of the silk and dances around by controlling your tummy pressure on the wire.

Now open out the silk and hold the top two corners out taut in front of you. The silk at this point acts as a black art backdrop. To make the ball float towards the viewers and away from the silk, pull the silk back and the wire pushes thru the silk giving the effect of the ball going forward. But, really the silk is going backward.

Now, by moving the silk up and down, sideways etc., the ball seems to be skipping all around as it will also bob about.

Now hold the silk at the top center with one hand, The silk will drape downwards. Your other hand now can pass a small hoop over the ball in the usual levitation manner.

Finish with the ball going back into the center of the silk. Your fingers close around it and carry away the bundle with the wire going away with it.

NOTE: Test in advance to see which way to hook the wire so that the ball will stand out slightly, and curve downward.

If you don't like the idea of the end of the wire holding enough under your belt, tape a coin or washer to the end of the wire. This coin will then go behind your belt buckle from the top.
